1. [redacted] were TDY [redacted] 09-12 July. The purpose of this trip was to determine requirements for a stand-alone system that will meet [redacted] requirements and also interface with LIMS. It appears that a Wang Alliance System will meet the [redacted] requirements; however, the technical aspect of how this system will interface with LIMS is under review by ODP. Our goal is to resolve this matter in the next two weeks and order the appropriate equipment. [redacted]

2. Numerous meetings continue to take place with representatives of the LIMS Development contractor, Booz-Allen & Hamilton (BAH). Every effort is being made to enlighten the BAH representatives on matters that were not properly covered at the initial Critical Design Review (CDR). While much progress has been made, the final decision on when the formal CDR will take place will not be made until later this week. [redacted]

3. IMSS has satisfied the requirement to rewrite and publish two objectives that appear in the LIMS System Objectives document. Objectives 7.1 and 9.19 were altered to conform with the preferred statements contained in two discrepancy reports initiated by the LIMS team. The rewritten objectives were published in the form of an errata sheet, to be placed in the front of the document.

SUBJECT: IMSS Weekly Report for Period Ending 18 July 1984

b. DAS

25X1 1. LI 45-2-7 has been published and disseminated to OL components. This instruction establishes the policy that IMSS review and concurrence is required on all requests for ADP equipment and associated services, prior to proceeding with the acquisition process. []

25X1 2. The Chief/DAS attended a three-day seminar on Artificial Intelligence--the latest generic buzz word for the process of programming computers to "think." The state of this particular art is still rather rudimentary and has not yet found significant application in the Agency. The developing capability is associated with the emergence of fifth-generation computers. []

25X1 4. Supplemental Wang Alliance equipment has been determined and ordered, that covers needs for the balance of FY-84 and, probably, all of FY-85. In effect, a new master unit will be acquired, together with associated peripherals, 23 terminals and two printers. []
